I believe the CBI / Ex. 4 have both been dropped for 2007. Linc will know for sure.

I am not sure she should mention those.

Thanks - Byron

Margo will be giving a talk at this year's DOE Diesel Engine Emission Reduction Conference.

Below is an excerpt from her draft speech.

Any thought on this list - is it correct? Are there other companies which we can point to who have said in the public domain that they are going to bring new diesel technology light-duty vehicles to the market? Please get any comments to Justin Cohen and myself asap.

thanks,
Bill Charmley
